Subject Line : UX Research Contract Opportunity
↳ ① Subject Line.

Hello Amal,

→ ② Salutation.

I hope this message finds you well. I am reaching out today because I am managing an application redesign project here at ZOHO Company and seeking UX research contractor to help analyze several sets of usability testing data.

↳ ③ Body.

This is a three-month project beginning February 1st, and we estimate it will take roughly 15 hours per week. All work can be completed remotely, but you're welcome to use our workspace.

↳ ③ Body.

Please let me know if you're interested in this project and we can set up some time to discuss the details further. I look forward to hearing from you.

2) Compare and Contrast Essay

Compare and Contrast means looking for similarities and differences between two things, which can see nicely in a Venn diagram. Compare and Contrast is a rhetorical style that discusses the similarities and differences of two or more things: ideas, concepts, items, places, etc....

Compare and Contrast Essay about High School Vs College.

Many people believe college is just a continuation of high school. However, the two have distinct differences that can't be ignored when you walk onto a college campus. And, it isn't just that newfound freedom. Examine the similarities and differences of college vs. high school by looking at the structure, teaching style and grading.

In high school, the structure is easy to see. Most students have followed it for at least the last 8 years leading up to high school. Students spend about 6 hours a day or 30 hours a week learning various subjects in structured time increments. To make sure everyone attends, buses use them to school.

Additionally, teachers use a lecture style with textbooks and notes on a chalkboard. Students ask questions during lectures and take notes. Most of the time, the lecture follows the textbook.

While college does have a structure, it's very different from the high school example. Students follow a schedule, but it is a schedule of their own choosing. Rather than 6 hours a day in class, full-time college students spend 12 to 18 hours per week attending classes. The school year follows a semester or quarter system that covers fall, winter, spring and summer.

In addition, when it comes to teaching styles, college professors aren't going to go by the book. While books supplement learning, their lectures are full of interactive materials, illustrations, personal experience, and their own expertise in the subject. Rather than giving all the information, teachers expect students to find it on their own through research assignments and homework. And if students have questions, it's their responsibility to seek teachers out.

Lastly, professors expect students to apply their knowledge, so when it comes to grading, it is more based on a student's ability to apply this knowledge to unique situations. And, tests can make or break grades. Some professors test this knowledge only a few times through semester tests. Failing a test could mean failing the course. High School and college are both institutions of higher education using classes and and grade structures. However, that is where the similarities end. The Structure, teaching methods, and grading styles are completely different between these two institutions.

3) Mixed Tenses.

Mixed tenses occur when the Verbs in a sentence are in more than one tense.

Eg: I ran yesterday and I will run tomorrow.

- * Present Tense.

- * Past Tense.

- * Future Tense.

Simple Present Tense.

It is used to denote Scientific facts, universal truths and work done on daily basis.

Eg: S + V₁ + s/es + Obj.

She writes a letter.

Present Continuous Tense.

It is used to express an action taking place at the time of speaking.

Eg: Sub + is/am/are + V₁ + ing + Obj.

She is writing a letter.

Present Perfect Tense.

It is used to show an action that started in the past and has finished.

Eg: Sub + has/have + V₃ + Obj.

She has written a letter.

Present Perfect Continuous Tense.

This tense shows the action which started in the past and is still continuing.

Eg: Sub + has/have + been + V₁ + ing

She has been writing a letter.^{+ Obj.}

Past Tense.

A tense expressing an action that has happened or a state that previously existed.

Simple Past Tense.

An action completed in the past.

Eg: Sub + V₂ + Obj

She wrote a letter.

Past Continuous Tense.

An action going on at some time in the past.

Eg: Sub + was/were + V₁ + ing + Obj.

She was writing a letter.

Past Perfect Tense.

The past perfect is used to show the action that took place earlier.

Eg: Sub + had + V₃ + Obj.

She had written a letter.

Past Perfect Continuous Tense.

An action that began before a certain point in the past and continued up to some time in past.

Eg: Sub + had been + V₁ + ing + Obj.

She had been writing a letter.

Future Tense.

The moment of speaking or writing is called as future tense.

Simple Future Tense.

This tense tells us about an action which has not occurred yet and will occur after saying or in future.

Eg: Sub + will / shall + Verb + Obj.

She will write a letter.

Future Continuous Tense.

It is used to express an ongoing or continued action in future.

Eg: Sub + will / shall + be + V + ing + Obj.

She will be writing a letter.

Future Perfect Tense.

It is used to express an action which will happen/occur in future and will be completed by a certain time in future.

Eg: Sub + will/shall + Have + V + Obj.
She will have written a letter.

Future Perfect Continuous Tense.

It is used to talk about actions that will commence at a fix time in future and will continue for some time in future.

Eg: Sub + will/shall + have been + V + ing + Obj.

She will have been writing a letter.

4) Prepositional Phrases.

Passive Voice.

1) He will have posted the letter.

1) The letter will have been posted by him.

2) You will have won a prize.

2) A prize will have been won by you.

2) Infinitives

An infinitive is made up of "to + Verb" and is also used as a subject or object in a sentence, though much less commonly as a subject.

Examples:

* We all want to watch a movie this weekend.

* To write her novel in peace and quiet was all she wanted.

* We offered to give them a ride home.

* I intend to finish my paper early.

3) Gerunds.

A gerund is a Verb in "-ing" form that is used as a noun. It becomes the subject or object of a sentence.

Eg: * I enjoy lazing on the weekend.

* Studying is important.

* We discussed not attending the concert.

List of Verbs that are commonly followed by gerunds:

Enjoy - Suggest.

Quit - Finish.

Discuss - Stop.

Think - Recommend.

Mind - Put off.

Eg:

* She quit worrying about punctuation.

4) Writing Response to Complaints.

When responding to a customer complaint, it's important to do three specific things: Respond specifically to the issues brought up by the customer. Provide a specific apology that acknowledges any mistakes on your end. State exactly what you intend to do make it right.

To,

Mr. Samuel Jackson,
234, Nice Road,
Hyderabad.

26/04/2022

Subject: Response to a Complaint.

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am deeply apologetic for the problems you are facing regarding the mobile product complaint. We never intend to provide any sort of issues, but somehow, you being our customer, you had to face the issues.

I assure you that, your issues will be surely looked out and you will get special care under the provided circumstances. One of our senior attendants will be looking over your issues. Please give us a chance to show us our best service. I assure you, that we will not at all disappoint you.

I will be obliged to have an acknowledgement from your side on receiving this letter.

Thanking You,

M. Sabika,

5) Word Formation (Noun-Verb-Adj-Adv).

Word Formation means forming new words to add up to our language. The English Language has a genius for the formation of expressive compound words. Common examples include Sun-stroke, pick-pocket, elbow-room, land-lord, humming-bird, etc.,... The two parts of a compound word are usually separated by a hyphen.

Verb	Noun	Adjective	Adverb
act	action	active	actively care	care	careful	carefully

- 3) Inactive people do not get enough exercise to stay healthy. (active).
- 4) He has an impressive record of achievement. (impressful).
- 5) Active people do not get enough exercise to stay healthy. (Activeness).

Adverbs

An adverb is a word that tells us more about a Verb. It "qualifies" or "modifies" a Verb.

→ Alice smiled sweetly.

→ Those mangoes were very sweet.

→ He spoke quite loudly.

Kinds of Adverbs

1) Adverb of Time

Time adverbs cannot be used in the present perfect, instead the past indefinite is used for them.

Eg: I met him yesterday.

2) Adverbs of Frequency

They are the adverbs that tell us how often an action takes place. Examples are often, always, once, never, again, seldom, frequently, etc.,...

→ The Delhi Police is always with you.

3) Adverbs of Place.

They are the adverbs that tell us where an action takes place. Examples are: here, there, up, down, everywhere, out, in, etc.,...

→ Please sit here.

4) Adverbs of manner.

They are the adverbs that tell us how an action takes place or in what manner. Examples are: quickly, carefully, sweetly, clearly, bravely, beautifully, well, fast, etc.,...

→ They helped us cheerfully.

5) Adverb of Degree and quality.

They are the adverbs that tell us how much or to what degree or to what extent.

Eg: Shamita is Very beautiful.

6) Adverbs of Reason.

They are the adverbs that tell us why an action takes place.

Eg: Consequently, therefore, hence.

→ It consequently has four Vertices and Six edges.

7) Adverbs of affirmation or negation.

They are the adverbs that tell us whether an action is done or not.

Eg: Surely, certainly, not probably, etc,...

* He is a fool indeed.

* I was not playing.

8) Interrogative Adverbs.

Adverbs that are used for asking questions are called interrogative adverbs.

Eg : When, where, how, why, etc.,...

→ When will you go to New York?

9) Relative Adverbs.

A relative pronoun is a type of pronoun that often introduces dependent clauses in sentences. They also can stand alone as the subject or object of a sentence.

Eg : who, whoever, whom, that, which, when, where and whose.

→ where are you going?

Unit - III Problem Solving

1) Letter to the Editor.

A letter to the editor is a message you write to a newspaper or other publication to share your view on a current issue you feel is important in your community, state or country.

Letter to the Editor on Social Problems.

46, Madanpur Khadar,
New Delhi - 76.

25 July, 2022.

The Editor,
Hindustan Times,
New Delhi.

Subject: Need for a public campaign to clean Yamuna river.

Dear Editor,

I am Shilpa S, a member of NGO Sargam. I am writing to you in order to highlight the declining situation of the river Yamuna.

The City of Delhi is getting polluted water from the Yamuna river. The residents are being blamed for this. They pollute the river with muck, dirt and garbage. The river water is filled with waste materials, plastic, bacteria and chemicals. It is not in good condition for consumption.

The public has been trying for a Water Treatment Plant. Still, the authorities have not responded to the continual requests.

Therefore, I request you to highlight the issue in your newspaper and generate public interest. We all have to come forward to set up the plant in the area.

Thanking You,

Yours Sincerely,
Shilpa. S,
Member Sangam.

2) Checklists.

- * Check list ensures a systematic process of activities.

- * It is essential to prepare a check list before an individual attempts to perform certain tasks without any difficulties.

- * Activities - like applying for a passport, degree certificate from a university, college admission, attending an interview, etc,...

* The interrogative form (Yes or No type questions) should be used.

* Yes/No boxes should be provided for each question.

* The questions should begin with the auxiliary such as is, are, do, does, has and have.

* Auxiliaries should be followed by the "Subject".

3) Problem Solution Essay

Problem - Solution essays serve an important role. These essays inform readers about problems and suggest actions that could be taken to remedy these problems.

Write a Essay on Problem Solution "Poverty".

Poverty is defined as the general scarcity of any material possession or money. It is a multi-dimensional concept and encompasses the social, political and economic status of an individual. The concept of poverty is dynamic and it may differ in each society. For example, in India, a person is considered as poor if he earns below 47 INR in an urban city, whereas not having a mobile phone is a sign of poverty in U.K. Poverty in the society arises from the difference in the income and opportunity. Just and equitable policies can be helpful in uplifting the standards of the poor in the society.

Almost half the world that is over three billion people lives on a marginal income of less than $2.50 per day. The marginal income makes survival impossible; it is insufficient to cover for the basic necessity of food, clothing and shelter. One of the measures that can be adapted to encounter poverty is food security. Inadequate food forces people to desperate measures, if the government can design policies to provide food in minimum prices to the poor, it can give them an opportunity to use their income to provide for the other basic necessity.

Another measure to fight poverty is by generating more employment. The people beyond the poverty line are uneducated and make up for the unskilled labor population of the country. Both public and private investments can be helpful in generating more employment for the population of the unskilled labor. Another policy that can be adopted is to provide a minimal training to teach some skills to the labor and make them employable.

Poverty makes people suffer psychologically. The difference in the opportunities and income that they witness around themselves makes a psychological impact on the poor. The government should focus on their health and wellbeing. Providing for the health and medical facility at the minimal cost to the poor section of the section helps in fighting poverty.

Fighting poverty is difficult as the poor cause poverty. They do not adapt to the opportunity that comes to them and often prefer not to work. They rather follow the antisocial ways of raising money than being employed. The thought process of the poor makes it difficult for the policies to help them out of their situation.

4) Error Correction.

Error Correction is the process of detecting errors in transmitted messages and reconstructing the original error-free data.

- 1) a) we stock a full range of general hardware. ☐
- b) we stock a full range of general hardware. ☒
- 2) a) The teacher gives information. ☒

5) If Conditional Clauses.

A group of words which forms part of a sentence, and contains a subject and a predicate, is called a clause.

Eg: I prefer the later train, which leaves at three o'clock.

Close the door when you go out.

*An independent clause expresses a complete thought and can stand alone in a sentence.

*An Subordinate clause does not express a complete thought and cannot stand alone.

There are four conditions in the usage.

1) Zero Conditional.

2) First Conditional.

3) Second Conditional.

4) Third Conditional.

Type	If clause	Main Clause
Type 1	Present tense (V1)	Present tense
Type 2	Present Tense (V1)	will + main Verb (V1)
Type 3	Past Tense (V2)	would + main Verb (V1)
Type 4	Past Perfect (had + V3)	Would + have + V3

Zero Conditional.

* Zero Conditional is used for things that are always true. (habitual action, universal truth)

(If + Subject + V1, ... Subject + V1)

* If I travel continuously, I get a headache. (Personal)

* If he has any problems, he goes to temple.

* If dogs see a cat, they usually chase it.

* If the Sun goes down, it gets dark.

First Conditional (Real Possibility)

* Use the first conditional when we talk about real and possible situations.

(If + Subject + V1..., Subject + V1).

* If it rains, I will stay at home.

* If they ask me, I will lend them some money.

* If he works hard, he will pass the exam.

Second Conditional.

* It is used to talk about "unreal" or impossible things.

* (If + Subject + V2... Subject + would + V1)

* If they won the match, they would go to the next.

* If I finished the work, I would be happy.

Third Conditional.

- * we talk about a condition in the past that did not happen. The third conditional is like a dream with no possibility of the dream coming true.
- * (If + Subject + had + V3..., Subject + would have + V3).
- * If I had met my friend, I would have gone with him to the beach.
- * If I had been free yesterday, I would have invited my friend.
- * If I had not fallen sick, I would have performed well.

6) Compound words.

A Compound word is a union of two or more words, either with or without a hyphen. Compound words are formed when two or more words are joined together to create a new word that has an entirely new meaning. For example, "Sun" and "flower" are two different words, but when fused together, they form another word, Sunflower.

Sea + food = Seafood

Ice + Cream = Icecream

Swimming + Pool = Swimmingpool

Bus + Stop = Busstop

Living + Room = Livingroom

Noun + Noun.

* Mercury is existing noun and Thermometer is also existing noun.

Noun + Verb - Sleep walk.

Verb + Noun - Walking stick.

Adjective + Noun - Dark room.

Noun + Gerund - Jewellery making.

Gerund + Noun - Running Commentary.

Worksheets.

- 1) Animal behaviour - The behaviour of an animal.
- 2) Aluminium Extraction - The extraction of aluminium.
- 3) Battery Valve - Value of a battery.
- 4) Car Battery - Battery of a car.
- 5) Carbon dioxide - Dioxide of carbon.

i) Word Completion.

* Word Completion is the act or process of completing his completion of graduate school.

* The quality or state of being complete her second novel is near completion.

Worksheets.

i) I prefer to live outside the city in a _____ area.

We are being _____ to keep

Unit - iv Reporting of Events and Research.

1) Writing Recommendations.

Recommendations are commonly used in technical and general areas. This task of writing recommendations is very essential for technocrats who have to offer their valuable guidelines frequently to carry out tasks effectively.

Some useful expressions for making recommendations are:

- 1) May I suggest?
- 2) It is recommended.
- 3) It is suggested.
- 4) It is advised.
- 5) It is important.
- 6) It is necessary to.
- 7) It is imperative.
- 8) You should.
- 9) It would likely to be.

10) Need to be/have to be, etc,...

2) Planting of Trees helps in keeping the air clean.

3) A Substitute to diesel should be found.

4) Licenses to polluting industries should be revoked.

5) Emission Standards should be enforced.

6) Rules and regulations should be framed to effectively control air pollution.

7) People should be educated about the importance of preservation of our health and protection of plant and animal life.

8) Pollution from industry and power generation can be controlled by electrostatic precipitators which reduce smoke and dust.

9) Gaseous pollutants of industry and power station can be removed by differential solubility of gases in water.

Report

A Report is a statement describing what has happened or describing a state of affairs. It gives an account of what is seen, heard or observed. The word "Report" is derived from the Latin word "reportare" which means to carry back. It is a detailed examination of a situation or problem, of action taken, or of the findings of an investigation. It is written in a clear informative way, often drawing conclusions, making recommendations, and suggesting course of action.

Purpose of the Report.

Reports can be broadly classified into three heads like Progress reports, Survey reports and Feasibility reports. These reports are based on the time of action like present, past and future.

Progress reports - an action in progress.

Survey reports - an action that was over.

Feasibility reports - an action dealing with the future.

The reports can be in any of the following formats.

Sample - 1.

Write a report on fire accident in a factory:

From

17/03/2018.

M. Ravi Kumar

The Safety Engineer

Vijay Motor Company Ltd

Chennai - 08.

To

The Managing Director

Vijay Motor Company Ltd

Chennai - 08.

Respected Sir,

Sub: A report on fire accident in factory - reg.

With reference to your intimation dated on 13 March 2018, a detailed study has been made on the fire accident that took place on the 10th of this month in our factory.

On the above mentioned date, a huge fire had broken out around 11 a.m. in our Welding Department. It spread so quickly that it consumed fairly a large number of tools and Spare parts. Above all, Mr. Murugan, Our chief welder was also badly hurt. Luckily he was the only person working at that time as the other workers had gone for tea break. Immediately, fire men were summoned and they stopped the fire after battling for about half-an-hour. Mr. Murugan was hospitalized and he is now recovering fast.

Under investigation, it is found that the fire broke out because of a short circuit in the main line. As Mr. Murugan had been welding at that time, the fire spread quickly. In addition, the wires had worn out and needed replacement. All these had resulting in the devastating fire. The total loss is estimated to be nearly Rs. 1,50,000. To avoid such mishaps in the future, it is recommended that,

- * Wiring should be replaced and checked at regular intervals.

- * Enough fire extinguishers must be kept ready.

- * Automatic fire extinguishing sprays can be installed.

If all these measures are taken, definitely such accidents can be prevented in future.

Yours faithfully,
(The Safety Engineer)

Sample of Survey Report.

As the marketing Executive of "Star Electronics", you have asked by the Managing Director to study the survey of introducing a New Smart Phone. Prepare a report of the study.

A Survey Report

On

Introduction of Mac Smart Phone

Submitted to

The Managing Director

Star Electronics Company

Chennai - 40.

By

John

The Chief Executive

25 March 2018

Aim

The aim of the study is to find the survey of introducing a Mac Smart Phone into the market.

Procedure

The committee attempted to find the survey of introducing a Mac Smart Phone into the market by obtaining opinions from nearly 1000 people. The questionnaire was administered to 1000 persons at random. Data regarding their age group, income and occupation were also collected. They issued sample products at no cost, requested the customers to use it and give their opinion.

Findings.

The findings are

The quality should be very good.

The size should be bigger than the existing varieties.

The initial price should be kept low.

Attractive covers should be used.

Conclusion.

Our Survey proves that there is a good scope for marketing our Smart phone. It has been found that the product will be received by many people.

Recommendations.

The product can be introduced in various sizes.

The price tag should be reasonable.
No compromise on quality should be there.

Reported Speech.

Direct and Indirect Speech.

In technical and scientific writings, indirect speech or reported speech gains importance, especially in the report writing tasks. While transforming from direct speech to indirect speech, care should be taken to make appropriate changes in the tense forms, persons and pronouns and certain adverbials and demonstratives to show time and place.

Direct Speech: What is actually spoken by a person.

Indirect Speech: When it is reported later by someone else it becomes indirect Speech.

Eg:

* Ram said, "I am going home."
(Direct Speech).

* Ram said that he was going home. (Indirect Speech).

There are commonly three basic changes made to the speaker's version while changing the direct speech into indirect speech.

* Change of Tense.

* Change of Personal pronouns.

* Change of Nearness of Time and Place.

Change of Tense.

Direct Speech	Indirect Speech
1) Present tense. (write/writes).	1) Past tense. (wrote).
2) Present Continuous. (am/is/are writing).	2) Past Continuous. (was/were writing).
3) Present perfect. (has/have written).	3) Past perfect. (had written).

Dear [Mr./Ms/Mr]

I am writing to you regarding the marketing role that opened up recently.

I came across the job description on [Website Name] and was delighted to find that my academic accomplishments meet all of the necessary requirements. I am seeking a challenging but rewarding internship, which is why I was drawn to this exciting opportunity.

As a junior marketing student at the University of Georgia, I have acquired skills in advertising, PR, product development, and market research. Currently I hold a 3.8 GPA and have been on the Dean's List every semester. While in the college of Business, I have strategically focused my coursework in the following areas:

- * Marketing Analytics.
- * Marketing Management.
- * Survey Research.
- * Strategic Internet Marketing.
- * Integrated Marketing communications.

Using my knowledge of the above, I designed a marketing campaign for a local pet grooming business that yielded the highest return on investment based on our given budget. The campaign was so well received that I was awarded third place in UGA's business plan competition.

I would be delighted to have an opportunity to personally interview with you. Please accept the enclosed resume and feel free to contact me at your earliest convenience. I appreciate your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Aparna Khatri.
